More Details: www.visionsfilm.org

The fifth annual Visions Film Festival & Conference is amped to announce the launch of its Indiegogo campaign as of November 19, 2014.

To increase local, national, and international participation, Visions5 has extended a fundraising opportunity to the general public through the holiday season, ultimately allowing for further support of undergraduate filmmakers and film scholars. Every year since its inception, Visions Film Festival & Conference has experienced a steady progression in terms of innovation, participation, and reputation amongst the undergraduate film community. We need your help to ensure that Visions5 continues this trend.

Our heroic contributors will receive a wide range of perks based on the level of their donation--with great contribution comes great reward!

Donations and Awards:
